Paul Traverina

Paul Traverina leads a team of Business Development Specialists whose focus is primarily in the government contracting arena. He and his team interface with federal government agencies to ensure small business participation in contracting opportunities. Their mission includes assisting small businesses with government certifications as well as marketing and business planning. The team also has an important marketing and outreach responsibility, as they interact with local chambers of commerce, economic development entities, resource partners, and small businesses in general, to help them understand the programs and services available through the SBA.
